

E. E. Mallott, Old Timer of Tees District, Dies

There passed away at the Red Deer Hospital Friday morning one of the most highly respected old timers of the Tees district in the person of Mr. Everett E. Mallott. The deceased homesteaded six miles north of Tees in 1902, coming to Alberta from Leamington, Ont. While Mr. Mallott has not been in the best of health during the past year, his death came as a great shock to his many friends.

Funeral services, conducted by Rev. Stinson of Bashaw, assisted by Rev. Kettles of Clive, were held at the family residence Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Many beautiful floral offerings were sent to the casket in which Mr. Mallott was held. Pallbearers were J. J. McGhie, E. Martin, Harold Plaster, Wm. Ardley, E. C. Walton and D. J. MacMillan. Interment was made at the Earlville cemetery.

The deceased leaves to mourn his loss his wife, three daughters, Elizabeth (Mrs. H. Sharpe, of Bashaw), Kathleen (Mrs. Delbert McLean, Tees district), Helen, at home, and four grandchildren.

Telephone Office To be Renovated

Work will be started on the renovation of the front of the local Telephone Office within the next two weeks. J. M. Campbell, contractor from Castor, is in charge of the job, although all local men will be employed. It is expected that a crew of six or more will be hired locally to do the job.

Close to $2,000 is being spent on the front, which will be done in tapestry brick with stone trimmings. The doorway is to be moved to the side, and the steps leading up into the office will also be altered. Tenders have been asked for by Mr. Campbell for carpenters, electricians and tinmen.

Mrs. H. M. Jones Honored By Friends On 85th Birthday

On Tuesday, July 19, members of St. Cyprian's W.A. and some former members gathered to honor Mrs. H. M. Jones at her home on the occasion of her 85th birthday. The afternoon opened with some games directed by Mrs. Sansbury, a treasure hunt and a singing competition. The members were then called on to bring their greetings to the guest of honor in the form of quotations, verses or songs, and it was noticeable that the best mementoes were possessed by the older members.

Following a short sing-song, tea was served. Mrs. Jones cut the birthday cake, a work of art made and decorated by Mrs. Robert Graydon. Mrs. T. W. H. Lewis, the president, proposed the birthday toast, and in reply Mrs. Jones told how, 25 years ago, she had been invited by Mrs. Tom Roberts to join St. Cyprian's W.A., and she expressed her heartfelt thanks for that invitation, which had led to so many years of happiness and services. At that time the W.A. consisted of seven members, two of whom, Mrs. Roberts and Mrs. Young, were guests at the party.

The racket game, which has become something of a tradition, was performed with zest, and by happy afternoon was closed by the singing of the Twenty-third Psalm, repetition of the members' prayer and the benediction.

Andrew Gilmour, One of Lacombe's Respected Old Timers, Passes Away

Funeral Services Held in St. Andrew's United Church Well Attended; Interment Made at Lacombe Cemetery

Coming with a suddenness that shocked the town and community, one of Lacombe's highly respected old-timers and pioneers, Andrew Gilmour, died at his residence about 9 o'clock last Monday morning, July 25, from heart failure. He was 63 years of age. While his health had not been of the best for some months past, he was at no time confined to his bed and attended to his business in town and on his farm, right up to Saturday last, when he chatted with many of his friends and intimates around town. The funeral was held Wednesday afternoon from St. Andrew's United Church, which was well attended by friends to pay their last respects, testifying to the high esteem and respect in which the deceased was held. The bier was banked with floral tributes from far and near. Rev. A. L. Carr officiated at a beautiful service, touching on the many fine qualities of the deceased. Lacombe Funeral Home had charge of the funeral arrangements, interment being made in Lacombe cemetery. The pallbearers were A. M. Campbell, W. N. Morrison, Alf. Day, Walter Simpson, T. F. Roberts and F. E. McLeod.

In partnership with his brother, John Gilmour, the deceased has operated an abattoir and packing plant business in Lacombe for many years.

Andrew Gilmour was one of the early settlers of the Lacombe district, coming first to Lacombe in 1897. He was born at Nilestone, Ontario, on March 2, 1875. Prior to coming west he was engaged with his father and uncles in farming and stock dealing, and continued in this business when he came west. In addition to the range land held in connection with his stock business, Mr. Gilmour farmed some tracts of land, and in recent years went in for seed growing. He was a member of the Canadian Seed Growers' Association.

In 1917 Mr. Gilmour was elected to the Alberta Legislature, as Conservative member for the Lacombe constituency, which he represented until 1921. He also served three terms on the Town Council from 1914 to 1920.

His father, the late James Gilmour, represented East Middlesex, Ont., as Conservative member in the Federal House from 1896 to 1904.

He was married in December, 1901, to Miss Olive Burr, daughter of the late William Burr, who was postmaster in Lacombe for thirty years. He is survived by his widow; one sister, Mrs. W. H. Onda of Wetaskiwin, and one brother, John, of Lacombe.

Small Child Suffers Accident At Gull Lake

Leland Waters, three-year-old son of Mrs. M. L. Waters of the local school teaching staff, received a narrow escape from drowning at Gull Lake Wednesday. Playing in the water near Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Pratt's cottage, the small boy fell in. Mr. L. Carr noticed that the lad did not get up, and on picking him up, found the boy unconscious. Dr. Edith Hamilton gave medical attention. Leland recovered almost immediately but he was brought to the Community Hospital here for observation.

The accident is believed to have occurred when Leland turned a somersault in the water and fell heavily.

Baby daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. Reynolds was rushed to hospital with severe injuries about the head and eyes after she was trampled by a horse in the family farmyard recently. The parents found the child after hearing screams in the yard.

Last reports show both are making good headway towards recovery.

I.O.D.E. Holds Successful Tea

A successful tea was held at the cottage of Mrs. Perry W. Pratt, regent of the Lord Lacombe Chapter, I.O.D.E., at Gull Lake Wednesday afternoon. Small tables, decorated with vases of sweet peas, were arranged in the rooms and veranda of the cottage. The proceeds amounted to twenty dollars. A bake table, in charge of Mrs. H. E. Garuthers, was set up and well patronized. Samples of the quilt to be disposed of in the fall were exhibited.

Those assisting Mrs. Pratt were Mrs. C. Gillies, Mrs. P. W. Parsons, Miss Freda Simpkins, Mrs. C. Hembury, Mrs. Frank Bowtell, Mrs. T. F. Roberts, Mrs. H. E. Garuthers and Mrs. B. S. Cameron.

Old-Timers Picnic Will be Aug. 9th

The Lacombe and District Old Timers' Association will hold their annual basket picnic and dance in the maple avenue at the Dominion Experimental Station and Central Alberta Pavilion on Tuesday, Aug. 9.

Through the courtesy of Supt. F. H. Reed, a short field day program is being arranged for the entertainment of those men and women of the community whose residence in Western Canada dates back prior to Sept. 1, 1905, when the old North West Territories became the provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan.

The local old timers' organization has sent out a call to all pioneers of Western Canada living in the district bounded on the north by Morningside, east by Buffalo Lake, south by the Red River and west by the Saskatchewan River, to attend this annual gathering.

Farmer of Tees District Injured In Mower Accident

TEES.—F. E. Hoffman, 70-year-old pioneer farmer of the Tees district, received a seriously cut leg in an accident on his old homestead, 2 1/2 miles southwest of here, Saturday afternoon. Mr. Hoffman was in the field directing his hired man in cutting a heavy crop of hay when the accident occurred.

The mower, driven by Elmer Anderson, 21-year-old farm hand, was halted in front of Mr. Hoffman when the farmer stepped inside the stretch of the sickle swath to tap the horses gently on the flank. The horses started up suddenly, the blade of the sickle cutting Mr. Hoffman's leg above the ankle, slicing a four-inch strip through the flesh and chipping the bone. The injured man's trousers caught in the gear of the mower, and he was dragged some distance before the issue was halted.

He was immediately rushed to the Community Hospital, Lacombe, by his wife, where medical attention was given. His condition is described as "satisfactory."

Highway Through Town to be Fixed

Work on the repair and improvement of the main highway through town will be started before the end of this week, according to word received from the Provincial government. Monday small holes and small patches needing repair were filled in by the local government outfit headed by Ray Bolla, and machinery to do the larger holes on the highway will be available shortly.

The letter to this effect from E. D. Robertson, Superintendent of Maintenance for the Provincial Department of Public Works, reads as follows:

"It is to be advised that our maintenance outfit has been instructed to look after the maintenance work on the highway through town and that it should be carried out on a fifty-fifty basis."

"This road has gone too far for Mr. McQueen, District Engineer, Red Deer, to make the necessary repair work instructed to look after the maintenance work on the highway through town and that it should be carried out on a fifty-fifty basis."

Notification to this effect makes the decision of the Town Council to have the road repaired by J. W. Fraser of Wainwright unnecessary.

Hail Damage in District Slight

A large hail cloud which passed over Lacombe Tuesday afternoon and left a thin coating of hail in town, did little or no damage, a check by the Globe showed. Hail was reported in the district east of Morningside, with losses on a few farms reported to be as high as 45 per cent.

No hail whatever fell at Gull Lake, Blackfalds or Joffre.

Eight farmers in the district southeast of Joffre were badly hauled Sunday last week, with adjustments running from 20 to 60 per cent.

Mercury Reaches 95 Degrees Here Friday

Last Thursday and Friday, residents of the district sweated under a hot sun that shot the mercury to 95 degrees, highest temperature of the year. No breeze came up to cool the intense heat, which threatened to burn crops and gardens, already suffering slightly from lack of moisture. Farmers of the district fear that a protraction of hot weather will seriously harm the crops, which need rain shortly to aid the heads to fill properly.

Precipitation for June and July shows a sharp drop from a 23-year-old average compiled from the records at the local Experimental Station. June's 23-year average of 3.323 inches almost doubled the precipitation received last June with 1.7 inches.

A total of 1.8 inches of rain has fallen so far this year in July, with the 23-year average July figure reading 2.82 inches.

Farmers and late sown crops are showing the effects of lack of moisture during the past few days.

Old-Time Families Hold Reunion

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Morter, Earlmarl, California; Mr. and Mrs. Avery Wolfe and daughter, Santa Barbara, Cal.; Mrs. Zella Bartlett, Eureka, Cal.; Mrs. Louise Allison, Chicago; Mrs. John Morter and Mrs. Katie Kanneisser; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kanneisser and family; Mr. and Mrs. John Kanneisser and family; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kanneisser and family.

Shower Honors Miss V. Taylor

Mrs. Claude Rowe was hostess to thirty friends on Friday, July 22, when Miss V. Taylor, whose marriage is to take place in August, was an honored guest. The rooms were made fragrant and pretty with vases of sweet peas and baby's breath. An entertaining program included a violin solo by Mrs. N. N. Woody, a vocal solo by Kathleen Rowe, tap dances by Moira Edgell and several piano selections by Miss Eva Shaw. As Miss Shaw played "Here Comes the Bride," little Kathleen and Billy Rowe, in bridal costumes, presented a daintily decorated basket of gifts to Miss Taylor, who expressed her thanks graciously.

Board of Trade Forwards Resolution To Federal Gov't

"The Lacombe and District Board of Trade, by unanimous resolution today, urgently ask that Federal Government peg price of wheat at not less than 87 1/2 cents per bushel, basis No 1 Northern, Fort William, to insure farmer fair return on primary product, consistent with welfare of whole Dominion."

This was the text of a resolution passed by the executive of the Board of Trade at a meeting specially called, in the office of Secretary Jesse Fraser, last Monday afternoon, and was forwarded by night wire to the Hon. W. D. Euler, Minister of Trade and Commerce, Ottawa. Dealing the matter of major importance to the community, an emergency meeting was called, and it was understood similar action has been taken by other organizations throughout the Province.

A Dream Come True

A NEW source of communication, a possibility of ten years ago, is becoming a reality of the near future as airplanes continue to roar defiance to the waves of the Atlantic and cut the travelling time from America to Europe to 24 hours and less. The landing of the "Mercury," from Great Britain's famous "pilot-back" mother ship in England, last week at Montreal, signalled the possibility of the future. Newsreels, mail and greetings were brought to the shores of Canada from England in twenty hours of this flight, the first of a series of test flights to be made this summer.

Regular air mail routes will no doubt link Europe and North America within the very near future. Surveys and test flights were made last year by the American and British governments, and it is believed that no more than two years, at the most, will elapse before regular flights are inaugurated. These flights of the future cannot but help to develop trade, social intercourse and good will between the two continents. It is yet another step towards man's conquest of distance.

A New Factor In Europe

RUSSIA, the question mark of Europe, has thrown another bombshell into the major powers of Europe by her entrance into the warship building arena. "We must enter into a competition in warship building with the mightiest of the capitalist states," one of the highest spokesmen of the U.S.S.R. is credited with saying. The speedy industrialization of this mighty country of eastern Europe would lead to the belief that her recent boast in idle threat.

Few countries doubt Russia's ability to do what she sets out to do. The leaders have dragged the masses by their very shoe laces from a morass of hunger, medievalism and poverty into one of the most powerful nations in the world today. Through hunger and dissatisfaction, the Russians have marched to the heights of modernity. In the last ten years this once backward country has risen to the heights in construction and manufacture of machinery and the modern appliances of life. Her decision, then, to build an enormous navy comparable in size and strength to any fleet now afloat is taken seriously by world powers. Russia has the power; she has the will; she has proven on many occasions that she has the perseverance and the strength.

Trouble In Palestine

(From the Christian Science Monitor)

BACK of the violence in Palestine lies a sense of racial difference centuries old. Periods of terrorism such as British authorities are now attempting to deal with are not new to Palestine. They symbolize the determination of the Arabs not to accept a situation which arose not long after the World War as a result of British commitments to the Jewish race—commitments the Arabs considered as inconsistent with promises they had received.

But both Arabs and Jews, as well as the British Government, are faced today with a condition, not a hypothesis. Today the question is how these two peoples can learn to live together, and in what way the conditions under which they must learn this can be improved.

British authorities have given much attention to this question. A Royal Commission some time ago offered a plan for partitioning Palestine. However, in any such plan the details to be worked over are bound to be numerous and complicated, and while the work goes forward terrorists are tempted to think they can influence the outcome in their own behalf by riots and killings. It is the same mistake that champions of force the world over are making. Where reasoning together would bring permanent and extensive improvements in the lot of both parties to a dispute, attempts to substitute physical bullying only delay a genuine settlement. Palestine illustrates the point in that the current disorders there must now have the attention of officials until order is restored; then, and only then, maximum progress toward a fair solution of the Arab-Jewish question can be achieved.

Speaking of Spies

BRITISH newspaper owners have long been opposed to the tremendous powers of the government under the Official Secrets Act, even though they have been seldom used, and an airing of the entire matter will be welcome to this group. In this connection there is one amusing Fleet Street story about a reporter who wrote an article giving details of a new British fighting plane. According to the story, he was summoned by government officials and threatened with jail if he did not reveal the source of his data. Thereupon he produced a three-month old issue of a German aviation magazine—New York Times.

Through the Eyes of a Country Woman

By BRIDGET

Czechoslovakia has achieved world prominence by the stand she took against Hitler. When one realizes what a number of nationalities live within the confines of this territory, now known as Czechoslovakia, one cannot but be amazed at this solidarity of purpose.

During the last few weeks, I have been reading a series of articles by Beverly Baxter on her experiences there, and the viewpoints of other observers, and they have proved interesting reading. Erewhile Bohemia has lost its identity in Czechoslovakia, and of it, the great German statesman, Bismarck, said: "Whoever is master of Bohemia, is master of Europe." It is probably with this idea in mind that the rulers of Europe have given so much prominence and thought to the Sudeten German cause. To understand fully the whole affair, one must realize that the Czechs, and many other minorities, were, before the war, in the same position as the Sudeten Germans are today; but they were not nearly so well treated. In Silesia, as well as under Austrian domination, the Czechs, the Poles, etc., were the servants, the manual labourers, and were very badly treated. People who were very nice outside, would speak to these nationalities more roughly than a Canadian would speak to his dog. For 300 years the Czechs of Bohemia have lived under the domination of the Hapsburg monarchy. Human nature is the same everywhere; the desire to "get one's own back" is a feeling that exists in most natures.

The Sudeten Germans declare that Czech control will not give work to Germans; then, the Czech language being necessary for the Civil Service has made it more difficult for Germans to get appointments therein; the Sudeten Germans also claim that they do not get enough schools, or theatres; and that railway officials, policemen and postmen mainly can only speak the Czech language. If one examines these complaints, one cannot help but be struck by the reasonableness of it all. Why should a nation of fifteen millions use the language of a three-and-a-half million minority? Before the war, Czechs, Slavs, Poles and Hungarians had to know German to get around. All the railways were mainly in charge of the Austrian army; retired colonels were put in charge of railway stations, and were a sight to behold in their full-dress uniforms.

To get the humour of this situation, I would like to relate a true incident, that I, personally, saw. In 1913, the heir to the Austrian throne, who was subsequently murdered, and whose murder was the excuse for the starting of the World War, was travelling, with his morganatic wife and suite, to some place in Hungary. His Imperial Highness' "special" train had to pass through Teschen, a town in Silesia, where I was staying with the Station Agent's family. The family was in an uproar; the Station Agent, a retired Colonel, had grown stout in retirement; his beautiful, gold-embroidered blue uniform was an agony to him; but he was eventually poured into it and into shining boots now too small for rheumatically feet. His sword was buried, his white gloves cleaned, and his lovely blue cloak, lined with red satin, brushed as far as it would go around him. Thoroughly uncomfortable, he then, supported by his whole family, tottered onto the platform, where were other military officials, beautifully groomed and important. The Czechs and Poles, in fact, all the peasants, were herded off the platform; they were unworthy to be in the pure atmosphere necessary to the German and Austrian aristocracy. So, here was the platform, decorated with flowers and beautifully appointed officers and a chosen few civilians, at 2 o'clock in the morning, waiting for the Archduke's train. It arrived, everyone stood at the salute, utter darkness prevailed, not a light to be seen; some papers were exchanged with much saluting and clicking of heels, and the train left. The Archduke and his Duchess apparently slept all through this auspicious occasion. I stood staring at this wonderful show, with my handkerchief stuffed in my mouth for fear I should giggle; had I desecrated the occasion by such unseemly conduct, even my friendship with the Colonel's family would not have saved me.

I thought, what a waste, what a ridiculous business, driving all those peasants off the platform with bared swords; and a lot of those peasants were hungry, and the price of those lovely unseen flowers would have purchased many more leaves. If the Czechs and Poles were better treated, and the German and Austrian aristocracy retailed, would it really be very extraordinary? The extraordinary part is, that they are trying to be fair to the minorities within their confines. They are building an efficient state under very difficult conditions. The Sudeten Germans may have just grievances against the Czech Government, but it cannot be because of the original constitution, which allowed the Germans equal rights with the Czechs, apportioning to them 22 per cent of the appointments in the Civil Service. At present, the German party, who are allowed full representation in the national parliament, have 81 senators and deputies in a total of 450.

I feel we can learn a lesson for ourselves in this Czech-Sudeten German question. The latter a minority, trying to force its will on a people totalling five times their numbers. Force, driving power, and clear sight, visualising an ultimate objective, are doing it. If the Czechs had not had an equally open eye, they would, by now, have been subjected to Hitler and his gang. Aren't we rather in the same position, the majority of parents not desirous of the setting-up of the large school areas, yet being thrust into this step willy-nilly? Isn't the ultimate objective the thing to examine? The loss of local participation in school affairs. We mothers should really make a very active part in this step because it will affect the future generation for good or ill. It is up to us to determine whether the good points outweigh the ill, or vice versa. The whole scheme seems too much in line with dictator tactics to please those who have thoughtfully built up and cherished the school system within their districts. A main body cannot deal with local problems effectively, and according to special conditions ruling in different localities, and that is my personal feeling.

THE FIXED WHEAT PRICE

Editor, Lacombe Globe:

Dear Sir—May I beg some of your space to bring to the attention of the public two very important and urgent matters? Firstly, I want to urge all individuals and organizations to use their influence on the Federal Government, urging them by letter and telegram, to set the minimum price of wheat at a figure not below the present minimum price, i.e., 87½ cents at Fort William. The Cabinet is meeting this week to discuss this important matter, and announcement of the price for the 1938 crop is expected next week. Establishment of a price below this figure will mean ruin for many farmers, who have, for the first time, for in many cases, as long as eight years, a crop in sight. And let me well remember that the farmer suffers, all suffer, for as the President of the Canadian Pacific Railway said, "Wheat is the backbone of Canada."

The United Farmers of Alberta is now sponsoring a series of broadcasts over C.P.N. and officers of the association and other prominent men, notably E. L. Gray, leader of the Alberta Liberal Party, and Hugh C. Farthing, lately Conservative M.L.A. of Calgary, have spoken. Time is precious, and if the question of the wheat-growing belt are to be made effective, they must be voiced. AT ONCE a fifty-word night-letter to Ottawa costs only $1.30, and is more effective than a letter. I do not wish to dwell on this vital matter, as I understand you, Sir, are making reference to it elsewhere in this issue of your paper.

The second matter is one which has also often been mentioned in the past, but I have not brought right home to us. Meetings have been called in Regina on Aug. 1, Blackfalds on Aug. 3, and on Aug. 4 and Red Deer on Aug. 6, at 2 p.m., to discuss the Large School Division. Many of us are very much opposed to this new method of educating our children, not altogether perhaps, but most certainly as to the method of its imposition. As with the proposed 7 per cent Production Tax, there lies behind this Large School Division the loss of local autonomy and control; annual public school meetings with financial aid or grants become things of the past; schools, which more intimately affect the family, become impersonal, people than any other public service, cease to be within our immediate control, and become just another impersonal, remote, to a very large extent under the control of one Government officer.

Let me urge, with all the emphasis possible, ALL School Trustees, and as many parents as possible, to attend at the very least one of these meetings.

The area to be brought into the Division, as proposed a year ago, reaches approximately from Innisfail to Ponoka, and from Bentley to Clive. We have, within this area, many good schools, financing themselves, educating their children, and are being threatened by the close co-operation of the parents of those children, through their local school trustees. High school facilities are available at a considerable number of points, and are being very largely used.

Let us do all in our power to keep our schools and our children under our immediate control or we may wake some fine morning to see the schoolhouse at which our children are learning their "three R's", and which we built with our taxes, travelling down the road to a new site, or being sold as not being any longer required.

May I appeal to the women of this area to go these meetings? They are the ones who bring up the children and who worry over them when they are on their way to and from school, and on whom falls the main burden of their care in the already difficult enough process of trying to produce good Canadians.

Yours sincerely,
H. E. HEATH.
Lacombe, Alta.

Appreciates Her Dad's Birthday Gift

A few weeks ago one of our old-time friends, F. J. "Fred" Perry stopped in at the Globe office, telling us of his daughter's (Mrs. C. A. Reed, Montreal) birthday, and the bright idea had struck him that she might enjoy getting the Globe with the home town news, as a birthday gift. The result was that "Fred" promptly subscribed for the paper to be sent each week to Mrs. Reed's Montreal address.

The recipient is more than delighted is best expressed in her own words, when writing to her "Dad" thanking him for the kind thought. In part the letter reads, "Right away, I want to thank you for the nice birthday present I've received. I have got the paper three weeks now, and how I look forward to it! You can't imagine all the news I get out of it, and in the week's issue I see Helen Long is married. I saw her and her husband's picture on the front page. You may remember the 'Long' girls, whom I palled with in Edmonton. Even now I read the ads—don't think I miss an item anywhere. It certainly was a grand gift, 'Dad,' and more than considerate of you. I also noticed that Mr. Raymond had some prize peonies. How I

Latest Crop Report Optimistic for West

According to the latest crop report issued by the Bank of Montreal, prospects for a good crop throughout the Dominion remain good, with weather on the whole that has continued to be advantageous, although in some districts damage from lack of moisture is reported. Grass, hoppers, rust and hail have taken a certain toll of grain on the prairies and in Quebec and Ontario army worms have appeared but so far such damage as has occurred has been of a local nature.

In the Prairie Provinces, while grain crops are somewhat backward, they promise an abundant yield, although to maintain present prospects good rains over wide areas are required. In Quebec the hay yield is proving satisfactory and all other crops are doing well. In Ontario the prospective yields of all the main crops are above average. In the Maritime provinces all crops continue in good condition. In British Columbia hay and grains are light crops owing to dry weather but sometimes, hops and fruits give good promise.

Reports for the Prairie Provinces are as follows: Alberta—The weather has been hot, with only scattered showers. A portion of the south central district north and north-east of Calgary has suffered severe hail damage. Prospects continue good except in the northwest section of the Province, which is suffering from drought. Other districts need rain soon for filling. Wheat is mostly headed out. Coarse grains are promising. Sugar beets are above the average. Hay and pastures are good.

Saskatchewan—In most districts crops are making good progress, although further moisture is needed to ensure proper filling of heads. In the north central area, where drought conditions exist, reports indicate that yields will be light. Severe grasshopper damage has occurred in the southeastern area. Rust is prevalent in southern and eastern districts.

Manitoba—Conditions are generally favorable in the west central and northwestern areas and crops are making satisfactory progress. In southern districts, where crops are suffering from lack of moisture, good rains are required to prevent further deterioration. Stem rust is prevalent in central and southern sections and some damage is indicated, but the bulk of Manitoba wheat is rust resistant.

Under-River Tunnel To Unite Rotterdam

ROTTERDAM, The Netherlands—Building of a tunnel nearly one mile long to connect the two parts of Rotterdam on either side of the River Meuse—the $5,000,000 (about $8,333,000) job on which 300 laborers are to be kept employed for nearly five years.

The tunnel is intended to solve one of Rotterdam's most urgent traffic problems, because 30 per cent of its 750,000 inhabitants live on the left bank of the Meuse.

Bumper Wheat Crop In South Australia

ADELAIDE, South Australia.—The South Australian wheat harvest for the current season, announced by the Government Statist as 43,463,263 bushels, is the third among the highest on record, having been exceeded only in 1931-32 (48,093,102 bushels) and 1916-17 (45,745,000).

There were 3,359,425 acres under wheat and although this total was 102,737 acres above the figures for the previous season, the higher yield was due almost entirely to the better average, which was 13.73 bushels to the acre, compared with 9.39 in the preceding period. The total acreage sown to wheat, barley and oats in 1937-38 was 4,546,719 but reports from farmers in all parts indicate that in the 1938-39 season it is intended to sow 4,485,000 acres. The additional area for wheat will be 198,806 acres.

This season the barley crop exceeded the previous record by about 2,000,000 bushels and the oat harvest was a record by more than 500,000 bushels. There are nearly 14,000 wheatgrowers in South Australia.

In every direction there is a marked revival in South Australian primary industries, and, with a favorable season in 1938-39, further records in the production of cereals are likely to be achieved.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE
At all Christian Science churches next Sunday, the subject of the Lesson-Sermon will be "Love." One of the Scriptural quotations contained in the Lesson-Sermon is I John 4:16, "And we have known and believed the love that God hath to us. God is love; and he that dwelleth in love dwelleth in God, and God in him." One of the correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, is "Divine Love always has met and always will meet every human need" (p. 494).

Summer Assembly At McLaurin's Beach Well Attended

McLAURIN BEACH.—Alberta Baptists are well away in their annual Summer Assembly being held here and the gathering, although not quite so largely attended as usual, owing to the fact that it follows so closely upon big Western Rally held recently at Vancouver, promises to be one of the most interesting of any held in recent years. Dr. C. C. McLaurin, in his opening address entitled "Guarding the Spiritual," set the pace, which succeeding speakers are keeping up.

Dr. Gordon Jones, pastor of James Street church, Hamilton, is the chief guest speaker. He is taking for his topic "Ships of the Soul," dealing with one phase of this subject each day under the titles "Leadership," "Lordship," "Worship," "Partnership," "Friendship" and "Companionship." He is also to preach two Sunday evenings, to give an illustrated address. The latter was given Friday evening and was the best of its kind ever given here during the past 20 years. The doctor has recently returned from a trip through the leading cities of the Mediterranean, Palestine and Egypt. While there, he took moving pictures, which are colored and quite up to date.

Young People's Meeting

Saturday morning, a composite group of Young People, under the leadership of Mr. Elgar Roberts, leader of the choir of the First Baptist Church, Calgary, presented an ideal Young People's meeting, which was very well conceived and received. Those taking part were: Opening prayer, Avis Hughes; special music, Mrs. Wade; prayers, Helen Chandler, for the assembly; Marjorie Tanner, for missions; Faith Howard, for world conditions; Doris Tanner, for spiritual life; Ernie Webster, for forgiveness of sins.

This was followed by Sword Drill under Dr. Jones. Dorothy Leighton read the scriptures after which the topic, "What Christianity Means to Me," was discussed under the following heads: "What the Bible Means to Me," by John Beales; "What the Church Means to Me," by Ernie Webster; "What Prayer Means to Me," by Marjorie Hughes; "What Service Means to Me," by Jean Derby; and "What Christ Means to Me," by Marjorie Harris.

Tees Tattle Tales

By TATTLER

TRES.—The Tees district received quite a shock last Thursday afternoon with the passing of Everett E. Malott, old timer of the district. Mr. Malott farmed northeast of town in the Gadsby Lake school district and his general character will be missed by all who knew him. Although in poor health for the past six or seven years, Mr. Malott kept smiling and always had a cheery word for all, therefore his sudden passing at Red Deer was a shock. His remains were laid to rest in the Rutherford cemetery Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The funeral was attended by one of the largest circles of friends who could make the trip.

Mrs. T. Goberg and daughter Miss Lillian paid Calgary a visit, leaving Tuesday morning.

The Tees Sports Day and Picnic went over big. The hardball games were both close and interesting. Sargent took both games by the slim margin of one run in each case, defeating Nebraska 4-1 and Tees 7-6. The girls' softball was won by Tees against Alks 12-8; the High School boys defeated Clive 7-4; our little slide defeated Nebraska 12-1. All in all, a big day topped by a good chance, with Ken Moore's orchestra supplying the kick.

Corrigan Repairs Plane With Wire

NEW YORK.—When Douglas Corrigan climbed into his dilapidated airplane to fly the North Atlantic, he had to wire himself in. The knob had come off the cabin door, so he closed it with a piece of baling wire hooked around a nail.

His plane had 45 less horsepower than that of Charles A. Lindbergh, who crossed to Paris in 1927. It was the same make and type of ship used by Al and Fred Keyes a few years ago to set world's endurance record of 653 hours at Meridian, Miss.

Mahatma Gandhi Wants Fruits of Christianity States Missionary

By GEO. E. WILLIAMS

"William Carey, the first modern missionary to India, labored for seven years before obtaining the first convert; now there are from 20,000 to 25,000 converts per month or a quarter of a million added each year," stated Rev. Archie Gordon, who is just on his way back to India after a furlough in Canada, when addressing the Baptist Summer Assembly at McLaurin Beach recently.

Mr. Gordon said also that even Mahatma Gandhi is influenced by Christianity, although not accepting it. The Mahatma's favorite poem, the speaker said, is "When I Survey the Wondrous Cross." "Gandhi wants the fruits of Christianity without accepting Christ," Mr. Gordon said. He told the missionaries "We welcome your schools. We want to see the masses educated. We welcome your hospitals, your doctors and nurses, so long as you do not proselyte or try to make our people Christians." "But," the preacher said, "You must first have the fruits of Christianity without Christ."

Tells of Great Drought During the great drought in India in 1936, Mr. Gordon offered his services to the government in an attempt to secure water and was told to go ahead.

Monday evening Mr. Gordon, assisted by 30 or more men, women and children, put on a pageant to show how the missionary, with the help of native workers, tried to meet the various problems that faced them. This council, made up of the missionary, native pastors, deacons and lay members, chosen by the various churches themselves, meets in March and outlines the work for the coming year. They have to arrange for the itinerary of the missionary, the placing of native preachers and teachers, allotment of students to the seminary, the hearing of the various church problems and grievances and the allotment of the budget.

This brought out very forcibly the effect of curtailing of giving in the home lands.

Dr. Jones Speaks Dr. Gordon Jones of Hamilton, Ont., carried conviction to his audience Sunday evening when he preached a masterly sermon on the text 2 Timothy, 1:12, "For I know whom I have believed."

The subject of the sermon was "Captured by Conviction."

Dr. Jones stated that the great characters of history were men who were captured by conviction. The things about which they were sure became the turning points in history, the speaker averred. He illustrated this point by references to Nicodemus, Luther, Lincoln, Carey and Hudson Taylor. Dealing with the character of the conviction, the speaker pointed out that it was not a whim, or an opinion or even a purpose, but it is a truth by which we live, the ability to say, "I know."

Dealing with the content of the conviction, Dr. Jones drew his illustration from the first international convention of labor representatives held in Copenhagen in 1910, 28 years ago. There were 300 present there, and the press ridiculed them as visionaries. Yet in less than 15 years, Dr. Jones said, 100 of these men had become members of the governing bodies of their respective countries, and 12 of them were either premiers or presidents of their countries.

Many Noted Men Amongst them were such men as Ramsay MacDonald, J. A. Ures, martyr president of France; Branning of Sweden, Ebert of Germany, Trotsky and Lenin of Russia and Mussolini of Italy. These men with their convictions, the speaker said, have changed the world. The content of the Christian's conviction should be Christ, and nothing more or less, for Christianity, Dr. Gordon said.
